PHILOSOPHY KESSAKU

Kessaku means “masterpiece” in Japanese. During the process of our products, from formulation, production, packaging design, and until it reaches our customers we work to unite these four concepts in order to offer the best possible result.

Nuggela & Sulé is quality, ethics, sustainability and effectiveness.

Quality, Ethics, Sustainability and Effectiveness

QUALITY:

We guarantee safety. Each and every one of our products have undergone a dermatological or ophthalmological test, called "Patch". In addition, all Nuggela & Sulé's productions pass two types of microbiologic analysis.

ETHICS:

As a cosmetic company we do not test on animals. Animal testing for cosmetics has been prohibited in the European Union since 2013.

SUSTAINABILITY:

We defend a durable model that combine the environmental responsibility with the economic efficiency, and the creation of value for society in the medium and long term. This is based on 5 pillars:

- 1. Carbon footprint reduction: We work on having our dealers under a 100 Km distance radius from our laboratory and logistics center, thus preventing long displacements that may produce a larger gas emission due to fossil fuels.
- 2. Recycling and reusability: All of our shampoo bottles are made of recycled plastic. Jars and ampoule vials are made of PP-Green, a material made from sugarcane, which is less harmful to the environment.
- 3. Sustainable Forest Management: The carton that we use for our kits and boxes have the P.E.F.C stamp, organization that promotes the sustainability of forests to achieve a social, economic and environmental balance.

4. Sustainable agriculture: Most of our active ingredients such as Andean Maca, Quinoa or Tucuma Butter come from sustainable crops, guaranteeing profitability, environmental health, and social and economic equity.

5. Integrated Management System (IMS): Nuggela & Sulé accepts and respects the Ecoembes Integrated Management System. This system is orientated to prevent and reduce the environmental impact of packaging and waste management produced by the company.

EFFECTIVENESS:

All our products are effective. We have clinical studies guarantying their efficacy and effectiveness.

– For instance, for the F11 treatment, a clinical study was performed in which it shown a hair growth variation of a 41.2%.

– For the Amazonic eyelash strengthening serum, a clinical study was performed proving to boost not only the growth of eyelashes, but their density and pigmentation. (Visible results in less than 28 days)*.

We also use epigenetic technology for our specialized shampoos as well as for the treatment ampoules.

Nuggela & Sulé is cosmetic made by good people.

We understand the existing pathologies and main capillary problems and we work on formulas to solve them, improve hair health and its aesthetic appearance.

We are committed to preventing and reducing the environmental impact, and we are a Cruelty Free company as we do not test our formulas on animals.

Epigenetic shampoos

Epigenetics is the most important scientific breakthrough in decades in the fight against hair loss and alopecia.

What is EPIGENETIC?

It is the science that studies the mechanisms which activate or deactivate the genes without altering its DNA sequence.

The epigenetic shampoos by Nuggela & Sulé help trigger those genes responsible in hair growth. These shampoos have influence in some conditions we once thought were irreversible, like hair loss.

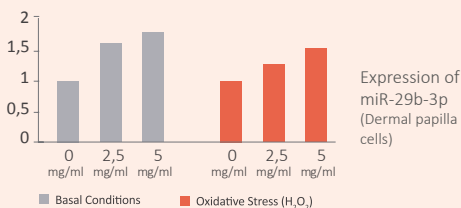

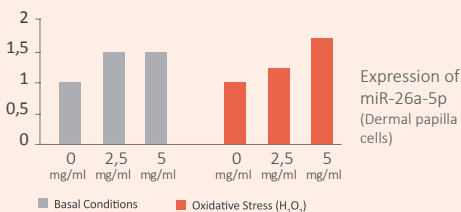

How does it work?

During the hair growth phase (Anagen phase), the number of cells in the dermal papilla increases, stimulating hair growth.

OFF As soon as the genes responsible for the natural cycle of the hair synthesize GSK-3 protein, (Glycogen synthase kinase -3), its activity is switched off. This type of protein is accountable for the hair loss phase (Catagen phase).

ON How can we activate it? Epigenetic shampoos by Nuggela & Sulé increase the expression of Micro-RNA (miR-26a-5p and miR-29b-3p) which inhibit the synthesis of the GSK-3 protein while maintaining the hair growth phase (anagen phase) as well as benefitting the cellular proliferation of the hair follicle in order to create new hair.

FO-TI (Polygonum multiflorum):

A very popular oriental plant due to its properties, it contains 24 times more Zinc than other important sources. An excellent source of Iron, Lecithin and Choline. Also known as He-Shou-Wu, named after a Tang dynasty man who apparently recovered his youth and hair colour after taking FO-TI.
